The contents are based on an approximation of the 3,000 commonest words, with additions for:

- Derivatives
- Examples of outline formations and stroke joins
- Special Outlines (listed below) which are written somewhat outside the normal rule and should not be used as a basis for forming other outlines
- All Short Forms and the majority of Contractions and Optional Contractions - these and words containing them are shown all bold
- Modern pronunciation is followed where this is at variance with that shown in the 100,000-word large red Pitman New Era Dictionary (published UK 1974)

ABBREVIATIONS

adj. = adjective

aux.verb = auxiliary verb

sing. = singular

* = exact form is not present in the Pitman Dictionary mentioned above. Many are normal outlines that are now used as verbs and so take various endings. The outlines given conform strictly to the rules and there are no personalised outlines.

underline = indicates the stressed syllable in otherwise identical words, where this changes the vowel e.g. entrance entrance.

SO = SPECIAL OUTLINES

For convenience, avoiding overlong or awkward outlines:

assuredly downright necessarily unnecessarily sincerely swerved swerver typewriter typewriting typewritten writing/handwriting written/handwritten/unwritten shrinker subdivide-d-ing subdivision

Extended use of doubling:

adventure curvature cylindrical feature future nature picture signature structure theatrical therefore (SF)
venture

To enable insertion or attachment of vowel sign:

deny doubtless linear needful needless needlessly neither night owl unite

Distinguishing Outlines: (Normal outlines and Short Forms in italics)

agent agency gentleman (SF) burial birth

undefined indefinite

unsoiled unsold

warrior wearier

woman women

Note also:

descriptions discourse

incomer (SF) newcomer

impatient impassioned

predict protect

responsibilities responses

Note also the use of Ish + N Hook, rather than Shun Hook, to indicate the extra syllable:

continuation (vs contention), evaluation (vs evolution), graduation (vs gradation), situation (vs station)

MARKED WITH "Note": learned learnt, mound mount, public-publish-ed, solvent solvend. As the outlines are identical, these may be written with all full strokes if it is felt necessary to distinguish between them, and especially important for "public" vs "published" when used as an adjective. This feature of halving needs attention where the results are the same part of speech and cannot be distinguished by their vowels.

SHORT FORMS "as is" "is as"

There are many variations on these pairs of words, not all shown in this dictionary:
 The large circle above the line represents any combination starting with "as" or "has".
 The large circle on the line represents any combination starting with "is" or "his".
